FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Bound by Guilt

Award-Winning Author C.J. Darlington Releases Second Novel from Tyndale House

November 2010, CAROL STREAM, IL— Roxi Gold has been shuttled from one foster home to another for most of her life. She longs for a family and will do anything to fit in, even if it's against the law. Soon she's traveling the country in an RV, stealing rare books from unsuspecting bookstores. She knows it's wrong, but if she refuses, she'll be put out on the streets.

Police officer Abby Dawson has seen the worst of society, and not just at work. Her ex-husband wrested their daughter away from her in a bitter custody battle. The job she once loved has become a chore, the world isn't any safer, and there's no joy in her life.

One fateful night, a man's innocent blood changes both Roxi's and Abby's lives forever. One searches for justice; the other finds herself on the run until a first edition of The Great Gatsby catches up with her. Will the power of forgiveness set them free, or will they both remain bound by guilt?

Award-winning novelist C.J. Darlington crafts a suspenseful page-turner in her latest release, Bound by Guilt, available March 2011 from Tyndale House Publishers. Though a stand-alone novel, the story is intertwined with characters from Darlington's first book, Thicker than Blood, which won the 2008 Christian Writers Guild Operation First Novel contest.

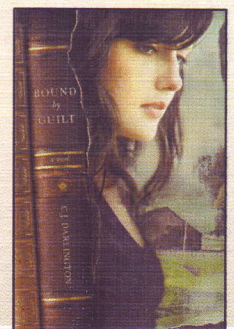

About the Author

C.J. Darlington is the winner of the 2008 Jerry B. Jenkins Christian Writers Guild Operation First Novel contest for Thicker than Blood. She has been in the antiquarian bookselling business for over a decade, scouting for stores similar to the one described in her books before cofounding her own online bookstore. She also cofounded the Christian entertainment Web site TitleTrakk.com. A home school graduate, she lives in Pennsylvania with her family. Visit her Web site at cjdarlington.com.
